

Natalie Imbruglia, While You're Sleeping

The sun came up
Desperate, desperate
The stars above
Held you back
Once again

Half way here
Half way here they whisper

You talk so much sense
When you're sleeping
When you're sleeping

And you share all the secrets
And the mystery
When you're sleeping

I saw your tears
Violet, violet
And it's been years
The sky's been crying for you
I found out
Beautiful things about you

You talked so much sense
When you're sleeping
When you're sleeping, yeah

And you share all your secrets
And the mystery
When you're sleeping

So you go and wonder
Where you wander
Lose yourself to take us higher
And I'll be waiting
For you when you're down

You talk so much sense
When you're sleeping
When you're sleeping, yeah

And you share all the secrets
And the mystery
When you're sleeping
