

Natalie Walker, Empty Road

I hear the sound of distant cars
Headlights flicker in the dark
I've been waiting, waiting for you
Waiting for you

One of a thousand promises
I'm alone and I am stoned from
The silence of our empty road
Empty road

Maybe its time for me to tell you
'Cause you never thought to ask
I've finally figured out you're not coming back
So I'll move on
But I'll sure miss what we had

You were a best friend
I loved you well
Don't forget
The good life that we once had
We once had

You gave me a safe place
But often circumstances change
Now I'm gonna take my life back
Cause I gave too much of it away

I hear the sound of an empty road
Tied in suspense
But you'll never show

Maybe it's time for me to tell you
'Cause you never thought to ask
I've finally figured out you're not coming back
So I'll move on
But I'll sure miss what we had....what we had...

I hear the sound of distant cars
Headlights flicker in the dark
I've been waiting, waiting for you
I've been waiting.
