

Natasha Hagen, Without You

When i look at the sun
I can feel no warming light
And at night the stars
the only have this bright

When i look at the world that colour his face to grey Maybe nothing to say more than another lonely day

I can get no sleep
dont know how to breath
I feel like i am falling down
down on the ground without you

I can get no sleep
dont know how to breath
down on the ground
without you
