Natasha Thomas, Your Love Carries Me

Sometimes when I feel
Like I'm stuck inside my mind
You're understanding
And you give me space and time

You see through me
Lovin' me for who I am
You're just there for me
And I never have to pretend

To figure it out on my own
You never tell me what to do
You just try to guide me through
And give me room to grow....

Even when I try to reach to high
I know that I'll always be alright
Even if I fall I know
I wont fall too hard
Cause your love carries me.

Even though I tend to be dramatic
You calm me down
And clear away the static
No matter what in life I may achieve
Could never mean more
Than your believe in me

Sometimes when I feel
I'm being criticized
I can always find
Compassion in your eyes
I could have all the money in the world
You'd still mean more to me
Cause your love makes me richer than most

Cause I'm not always gonna be right
And I'm always gonna reach too high
And even though my life keeps changing
I know you'll always be right by my side
