

Nate Dogg, One More Day

[Intro:]

We would like for you to help us welcome a very distinguished speaker
He hails from the DPG
Would you please stand and welcome the one, the only
OG Nate Dogg

[Verse 1:]

Now I was about eight when I caught my first case
My mother she turned her back and bowed her head in disgrace
Now I didn't do a thing, I was just standing by Here's a message to the youngsters today: standing by you can die
Usually I'm in the house but today I snuck home
And when I walk down the Long Beach streets, what a lesson they taught While walkin to the cornerstore a big mistake was made
My big homey I was walkin with decided he needed to get paid
So he loaded up his .32 and walked right in the store
He said "Dear God, forgive me please but I can't be broke no more"
Now remember I was just eight, I thought this was a joke
What I'm sayin I ain't playin, it was funny til that nigga got smoked Can you guess who that could've been quite easily?
but it wasn't so I'm lucky to be standing right here to see

[Chorus:]

One more day, one more
One more day
One more day, one more
One more day

[Verse 2:]

One more day, I'm hangin around so I can see little Nate have a pocket full of money just like his daddy Everyday I'm sellin big dope, it's all that I know I ain't workin and I got a baby so don't axe me what for One more day, gather round everybody and listen to me
I gotta another story about the penitentiary
One more day, see while I was servin cavi I forgot to think Say for instance they catch me, little Nate'll never see Now remember I'm sellin big dope but I'm packin my thangs and every corner police watchin, I ain't crazy so I'm leavin the game (I'm leavin the game)
But I guess I waited too late cos they just caught me
Now I'm locked up, every mornin I am prayin for my son's safety
One more day, I'd like to thank you for watchin over my D-O-double G's and would you keep an extra eye on Nate Dogg especially I guess I'll just continue liftin from day to day and if I live to see tomorrow, thankyou for one more day

[Chorus to fade]
