

Nazareth, Just Another Heartache

Who took the smile out of your face
Who put the tears and sadness in its place
Who took the sun out of your sky
Don't turn around or ask for reasons why
No place to run, nowhere to hide
It's just another love turned bad
Some smoke that's gettin' in your eyes

It's just another heartache, just another heartache
Just another hurt to take
Another bridge for you to cross
It's nothing but a heartache, nothing but a heartache
Just another big mistake
Another game you have lost
It ain't nothing but a heartache

Always wore your heart out on your sleeve
You said you'd always cared and needed to believe
There comes a time to give, there comes a time to take
But a sentimental heart will be the first to break
Don't try to run
Don't try to hide
It's just another love turned bad
Some smoke that's clouded up your eyes.
