

Neal McCoy, Only You

(Brett Jones)

The rush I feel right now
Lyin' here this close to you
Is pure as a child's
First time he sees the ocean blue
Greatest discovery
In a world so vast
Somehow you found me

Only you love could make my dreams come true
Only your smile could make me shine
I promise you now until our days are though
Every kiss and touch
You're my flesh and my blood
All of this life all of my love
To only you

Like a key that fits
It only unlocks one door
And you have opened up a world
I've never felt before
Babe you paint my life with every shade and every hue
Now every breath I take
I take it for you

Only you love could make my dreams come true
Only your smile could make me shine
I promise you now until our days are though
Every kiss and touch
You're my flesh and my blood
All of this life all of my love
To only you
