

Neal Schon, Softly

Soon the sun will shine into this window
Find your body laying next to mine
The world outside will wake up all around us
So kiss me while there's still a little time
It gives me the strength to face another day
When I hold you in my arms
(Softly) When I hear you call my name
(Softly) The tears fall, the tears fall like gentle rain
(Softly) Softly in the morning
(Softly) You touch me and I feel so right
When the day dissolves into darkness
Night falls as far as you can see
Then I'll try to leave behind the madness
Once again you will come to me
It gives me the strength to know you belong to me
Give me all of your love
(Softly) When I hear you call my name
(Softly) The tears fall like gentle rain
(Softly) Softly in the candlelight
(Softly) You touch me and I feel so right
(Softly) When I hear you call my name
(Softly) The tears fall like gentle rain
(Softly) Softly in the candlelight
(Softly) We're deep in love forever
(Softly) We're deep in love
(Softly) ...
