

Nedelle, Heatstroke

I just heard the shocking news
All my life I've been a fool
The truth about the sun
It's only fire and no fun no
They say it's an average star
Not so great at all
Relatively small
And I know he feels the same,
And I'm terrified
He can see the whole way through when he's in my eyes
Can he take the heat and stay with me

Someone told me yesterday
The moon is moving far away
I know it seems hard to believe,
But we're slowing down each century
So why are you crying now?
What'll humans do
When they have no moon?
And I know he feels the same,
And I'm terrified
He can see the whole way through when he's in my eyes
Can he take the heat and stay with me?
