

Negative, Reflections

I wasn't solid enough to be
Things you rather wanted to see in me
Should I forget myself to get over you?
All I can do is pretend and lie
To myself
Over and over again

Ghost of you
Still breathing
It won't leave me alone
It keeps on teasing
Reflections of eternity
Are dark as hell, now I can see
Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine

I couldn't stop believing in fantasies
You destroyed then forgot, now I rebuilt
This promised land
Made by sand
Of an hourglass we've misplaced
It's broken, it has disappeared and so have you

Ghost of you
Still breathing
It won't leave me alone
It keeps on teasing
Reflections of eternity
Are dark as hell, now I can see
Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine
(Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine)

Ghost of you
Still breathing
It won't leave me alone
It keeps on teasing
Reflections of eternity
Are dark as hell, now I can see
Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine
(Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine)
Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine
(Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine)
Despite of that I'm glad my heart and soul are still mine
