Neil Diamond, Blue Destiny

How can I love If my love doesn't love only me? What have I done To deserve love that never can be?

Once she was just mine alone, Now she's just someone I've known What can I do To change my blue destiny?

First she decides That our love will always be true, Next thing I know, She's runnin' with somebody new I ask this heart every day Can there be some other way? What can I do To change my blue destiny?

There were times When love was new And both our hearts were gay Now, the signs say we're through And bound for separate ways

First she decides That our love will always be true Next thing I know, You're runnin' with somebody new I ask my heart every day Can there be some other way? What can I do To change my blue destiny?

Once you were mine And wanted the whole world to know Now ev'ry time I'm around You got somewhere to go Still I 'd forgive all your lies darlin' I realize you, only you Can change my blue destiny
