

Neil Diamond, When You Miss Your Love

Laying there in bed
All the lights down low
You don't wanna see
Or talk to anyone you know

Seems like yesterday
You held her in your arms
Then you went away
Like all those other times

Now you're feeling all alone and empty
Like you wanna fade away
Close your eyes, and make time fly
But then, it don't work that way

All your friends try to help you over
You just wanna be alone
I don't know why that cold when blows
But here is the thing that I know

Heartaches gonna find you
No matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear
On the radio
When you miss the one you love
Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love

I know you wish
That you could be with her right now
Living out your dreams
Not passing through this lonely town

But down this travlin' road's
The only life you've known
You swear you're gonna give it up
But the road goes on and on

Now you're feeling all alone and empty
Like you want to fade away
Close your eyes and make time fly
But then, it don't work that way
All your friends try to help you over
You just wanna be alone
I don't know why that cold wind blows
But there is one thing that I know

Heartaches gonna find you
No matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear
On the radio
When you miss the one you love
Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love

Here is one thing that I know
Heartaches gonna find you
No matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear

On the radio
When you miss the one you love
Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love
When you miss your love

Sing it now
Heartaches gonna find you
No matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
Sad songs are all you're gonna hear
On the radio
When you miss the one you love
Gray skies are there to remind you
The blues are never behind you
When you miss your love

Yeah
Heartaches gonna find you
No matter where you go
When you miss the one you love
