

Neil Sedaka, Circulate

CIRCULATE

If you're feeling low down 'cause your baby left town, then let me set you straight, if your chick's flown the coop, knocked the blues for a loop,
get out and circulate.

Go on out and have fun, put the blues on the run, you'll find that living is great, just pretend you're a king, balance the world on a string,
get out and circulate.

There are plenty of fish in the deep blue sea shopping around for a mate, hurry on up, waste no time, come on in, the water's fine.

It's a star spangled world, when your flags are unfurled
don't underestimate,
this advice that I give, it means wake up and live,
get out and circulate.

There are plenty of pebbles on the beach, go out and gather a few,
you can be the cat's meow, start your rock-collection now.

It's a star spangled world, when your flags are unfurled
don't underestimate,
this advice that I give, it means wake up and live,
get out and circulate.

It's a world full of chicks, so get out and mix, I said that life's worth living so I get your kicks.
Get out and circulate.
