

Neil Sedaka, Here We Are Falling In Love Again

In love so many fall but rarely do we rise in love
We sing the saddest song,
Lamenting to ourselves how bad we feel when love goes wrong
I know I've been in love so many many times before
And swore to all my friends
That I would never never fall in love again

Chorus

And here we are falling in love again
Who'd ever believe we could
After all the many heavy falls
Why should it feel so good
Here we are falling in love again
I still can't believe it's true
Here we are falling in love
And there's nothing we can do
In dreams I often see a never ending kind of love
That glides on golden wings
Above the everyday affairs and ordinary things
In love so many fall from dizzy heights of fantasy
To find their love in flames
So very sure that it was nothing more than just a game
And here we are falling in love again
Who'd ever believe we could
After all the many heavy falls
Why should it feel so good
Here we are falling in love again
I still can't believe it's true
Here we are falling in love
And there's nothing we can do

Music

And here we are falling in love again
Who'd ever believe we could
After all the many heavy falls
Why should it feel so good
Here we are falling in love again
I still can't believe it's true
Here we are falling in love
And there's nothing we can do
And here we are falling in love again
Who'd ever believe we could
After all the many heavy falls
Why should it feel so good
Here we are falling in love again
I still can't believe it's true
Here we are falling in love
And there's nothing we can do