Neil Young, Big Green Country

Across the plain flew the lone grey rider Leather bag pounding on his back Above the clouds the moon was climbing higher A pack of wolves wanted their money back

With folded arms
the chief stood watching Painted braves slipped down the hill
In his ears
the spirit talking
As they closed in
For an easy kill

At the house the door was wide open Wind blew curtains off the rod She was waiting and hoping She was praying to her god

He was luckier than most men He was barely in his prime As she stood there in the doorway Her long dress flowing Would he make it this time

Over the hill in the big green country That's the place where the cancer cowboy rides Pure as the driven snow before it got him Sometimes I feel like he's all right

Sometimes I feel like a piece of paper Sometimes I feel like my own name Sometimes I feel different later Sometimes I feel I feel just the same
