

Neil Young, Evening Coconut

The Statue of Liberty is breathing in the air Atlantis is waiting down below.
Late at night, flashing lights
are sighted in the air.
It's no secret,
what everybody knows.
It really don't matter much,
which way I go.
But remember to pull over in the storm.

Have you seen the evening coconut Bobbing on the bay?
Standing on the water's edge of stone Someone there besides you
To hear the words you say
To show you things your eyes have never known.

Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut

The Statue of Liberty
is breathing in the air
While Atlantis
is waiting down below.
Late at night, flashing lights
are sighted in the air.
It's no secret,
what everybody knows.

Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
Evening coconut, evening coconut
