

Nekromantix, Dial 666

nasty stories bout a crucified son is not my defination of fun its a choice between heaven and hell deep beneath i can hear them yell yeah, im a sinner and i know where i going (you know where) all the nasty things ive done is now a story chorus-so i dial six-hundrend-and-sixty-six ive thrown away my crucifix yeah hello hello here i come and purgatorys the first zone please please pick up that telephone all your sweat and tears will never be alone rejected from the gates of st peter there were no wings for me, no he called me a cheater sad and sorry i turned away theres no way back, well now its time to pay a distant voice is now calling to me it says come and join me its the best place to be
