

Nekromantix, Technicolor Nightmare

Fifty feet tall when I first saw her
She was on the big, big silver screen
The lights are melding on the road
I didn't break my concentration
But she made other people scream

I don't waste my time on technicolor nightmares
Give me back those days in black and white

Now today, yeah, things have changed

Know it took me some time to discard her
But I still miss her, please come back now
She was my King Kong lover

It is impossible, that's what they all said
A girl like that is just too much for you
Hey boys, listen up now, don't you see
She's mine, all mine, there's nothing you can do
