

Nemesis 66, Summer Of '99

I've made mistakes but I never looked that way
You say you'll never leave, but I know you'll never stay
We know you've done it before, but you lost your nerve
You saw the road, but you never liked where it curved

You told me I'd never make it (I'm falling down)
And my head is aching (I have to go)
But my heart is breaking (I have to go down)

I've heard your story, about 1,000 times
You got away, but they know who committed the crime
I'm not saying that I never felt that way
You just need to relax, and it can be okay

You told me I'd never make it (I'm falling down)
And my head is aching (I have to go)
But my heart is breaking (I have to go down)

If you can't escape your position,
Then maybe it's blocked by the truth
You'll never find your way through my messed up, jaded(mind), can't escape it
Is it safe to say we lost you?
