

Nena, Let Me Be Your Pirate

It's time to take you with me,
On all the seven seas, we'll sail until the end of time,
The moon will keep us company.

It's time to make the flight now,
The skies are clear for take off.
This longing has been calling your name,
All i want is just to play this game.

For you I'd do those crazy things and I'd Lay the world down at your feet,
I'd catch the falling stars from heaven all these
Only to kiss you just one time.

It's time to take you with me,
Down all the endless highways,
We'll run until the end of time,
The moon will keep us company.
