

Neptune 66, S.O.S.

Just when I think I can't love you anymore, You make me love you less
I try to look over the bad things, But I must confess
Things would be easier if I could just block out the pain
Of loving you so goddamn much I just have nothing to gain

****

It used to be so easy
Things were never very hard
But now you toss my feelings to the side
Without giving me regard

&&&&&&
You always keep me coming back for more
I know I should be walking out the door
You always make me turn around and stay
So we can have this, same fight another day

Why does, it always have to be my fault for every little thing?
You never take the blame you've always got to win
I try to reason and I try to talk it out
But you could never just be wrong, you're always right without a doubt

Back to ****

Back to &&&&&&

Bridge:

No matter how much we fight
Some day we'll get this right
The peice will soon one day fit
And you'll stop giving me all
No matter how much we fight
Some day we'll get this right
The peice will soon one day fit
And you'll stop giving me this shit