

Nessa Barrett, forgive the world

We've been out of luck, dreamin' like we're stuck
Under clouds that might come down
Phone is always sad, TV's always mad
So we block out all the sounds

Their static, hold me
Don't you let the monsters in
I know you'll keep me steady
When the ceiling's starts to spin

Hell is right around the corner but it's heaven next to you
Let's pretend we won't get older if we never leave this room
Just close the windows, forget all our troubles, let 'em go like we don't know
Hell is right around the corner but I'll forgive the world as long as it has you

Spinnin' all the days, livin' in a daydream
And I wouldn't change a thing
When I'm in your arms, slidin' in the dark
I can ignore all the

Sounds, their static, hold me
Don't you let the monsters in
I know you'll keep me steady
When the ceiling's starts to spin

Hell is right around the corner but it's heaven next to you
Let's pretend we won't get older if we never leave this room
Just close the windows, forget all our troubles, let 'em go like we don't know
Hell is right around the corner but I'll forgive the world as long as it has you

But I'll forgive the world as long as it has you

Hell is right around the corner but it's heaven next to you
Let's pretend we won't get older if we never leave this room
Just close the windows, forget all our troubles, let 'em go like we don't know
Hell is right around the corner but I'll forgive the world as long as it has you
