

Nessa Barrett, hell is a teenage girl

You're barely a woman, and they call you a whore
Say that you're ruined when you're past 24
I'm too sensitive when I start to cry
But I'm a cold hearted uptight bitch when I keep it inside

I'm just a baby
But they try to slut shame me
It's your fault I'm crazy
Yeah that's what you made me
Say my looks can kill
This time they will

It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
But I'll watch it burn
Hell is a teenage girl

Will you still think I'm pretty when I come back to bite
When I'm screaming like a siren in the middle of the night
When I unleash the storm, just cause im bored
If you're not scared of me, then what's this prison for

It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
But I'll watch it burn
Hell is a teenage girl

We're delicate and dangerous
You should be afraid of us
We're delicate and dangerous
You should be afraid of us

It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
It might be a man's world
Burn baby burn
Hell is a teenage girl
