

Neurotica, Free

The time that you spend when you daydream alone Daydreaming is Free The aroma of nag champa filling the room Never smelled so Free Some things always challenge A smile from me And some things set me Free Electric is everyday what a display you don't see No just to be alive may not be all I need Free is Free indeed That spot in the ocean where the dolphins swim to be Just to feel free To capture the essence of lullaby life One must strive to be Free
