

Neutral Milk Hotel, A Love That Can't Be Sold

i never thought you'd leave i never thought you'd go i always knew you cared you never left me scared now all of this has changed i can see it in your face a love that can't be sold now lost and growing old

i'm going down
i'm burning out
never sell out
never lie down

still lonely in this place i just wanna see your face familiar for so long how can anyone move on?
you know you found faith through Him He will strengthen you again to the place you were before no longer lying on the floor

well, i'm going down
i'm burning out
never sell out

well, i'm going out
i'm burning down
never sell out

i'm burning down
never sell out
never lie down
