Nevermore, Cenotaph

Foreboding fear trickles down the spine Into the pool, resonating Behind the wall the dreamer lies in velvet sleep She must be still, never make a sound

Awake. awaken the dreamer

Awake. awaken

We build our walls around our games We decompose, dreamers never really die She lies unknown, the cenotaph in her name

Awake. awaken

Awake. awaken the dreamer Awake. where are you my love?

She lies unknown She lies unknown She lies unknown She lies unknown She hides
