

Neverstore, Golden Youth

Drones, smiling face's saying you don't understand
Creepy eyes telling lies so surprise we're not supposed to care
When it all comes down, we are on our own
We're not too young we're the future of this world and we've waited for too long

Come on speak up we are the ones to shows,
Come on speak up now!
React in fact we're the Golden Youth
Come on speak up now,

Same old song once again, is there anybody else who's bored
Such a sight for your eyes when the lies are revealed as empty promises

When it all comes down,

Come on speak up

They tell us we dont listen, they tell us we dont care
But what chance do we get