

Nevertheless, It's True

Tell me who's right, who's wrong?
It sounds like the same old song
If it's compromise they want
Then I don't belong
We paint You in pictures well
We praise You and live like we don't
If You'd ask do we love you still?
Sometimes I can't tell

It's true
That I still believe in You
We've made it hard to see the light shining through
The things we do

Holy and beautiful
Your grace is unstoppable
It's bigger than what we've done
Or how we feel

Underneath my skin
In a place where no one goes
There is still a fire
Burning in my soul
The world is such a mess
But somewhere there is hope
Somehow there is hope
You are still my hope
