

New London Fire, We Don't Bleed

Well all be happy now
so I will keep from speaking out
we may never be allowed
were just anticipating now
and well walk amongst the crowd as they fade into the sun.
They are all around us now
I can hear them screaming out..

Were safe from all the stupid things weve done.
Its never what we say
but everyday is comfortable somehow.
And well always sing our song
to make the truth come out and the damage thats been done
will never keep us down.
I think that its been found
if I could just stay in one place.
I could feel it coming now
it will disappear in space.
Were safe now
like the trigger of a gun.
I trust well blow away apart tonight
when we forget that we dont bleed.

Memories fade
forget the silence that we made its left in the air, somewhere it haunts what we cant see.
And the lights are coming down
I will kiss you in your sleep.
They are all around us now I can hear them screaming out..

Were saved now from all the stupid things weve done.
Its never what we say and everyday is comfortable somehow.
Were safe now, like the trigger of a gun.
I trust well blow away apart tonight
when we forget that we dont bleed
