

New Years Day, Razor

Razor

Making headlines and headstones

Breaking hearts and breaking bones

Your whole life's a performance, so let the cameras role

Razor

You know it's all too good to last

If it's not too much to ask

Slow down before you crash

Razor you're such a fatal attraction

Your friends are only for fashion

We may last for a while, but we'll go out of style

Razor you know it's all too good to last

If it's not too much to ask

Slow down before you...

Crash into my arms

Put down your guard disarm, disarm

You think this whole world's against you

It's never your fault, we're the ones with the issues

Crash into my arms

Put down your guard disarm, disarm

You think this whole world's against you

It's never your fault, we're the ones with the issues

Crash...

Slow down before you...

Crash into my arms

Put down your guard disarm, disarm.

You think this whole world's against you.

It's never your fault, we're the ones with the issues

Crash into my arms put down your guard oh disarm, disarm You think this whole world's against you

It's never your fault, we're the ones with the issues

You think this whole world's against you It's never your fault, we're the ones with the issues.

(P.S. If this song sounds like it's about someone, that's because it most certainly is. You know who
