

New Years Day, Saying Goodbye

I've got this funny feeling that I just don't don't belong here and your eyes make it clear you're just like a chameleon you change your skin for anyone that has the time to give you there's but I don't really care

this is me saying goodbye
but not just for tonight
this is the final exit I should have made so long ago why did I wait

yeah, your eyes make it so clear you only have the time when you're bored

I'm not being selfish I'm just being ignored your making a scene, yeah but the scene's not making me Saying Goodbye Lyrics

chorus

why do we wait
when it makes no difference all the same mistakes over and over again

and if you really want to make this right you'll do something before the clock strikes
