

New York Rel-X, Paranoia

i walk in to their shadows everywhere i go they are watching me
they won't leave me alone as i shiver in fear threatened for my life i turn my shoulder
as i hide & cry

as the night grows colder i head for home hear them as i walk away following me like a ghost they move closer and closer their presence sensed in the air scared off by a dream i wake up there's nothing there

[Chorus]
paranoia
they're everywhere i go paranoia
they won't leave me alone [x2]

i get up to only find a dark shadow watching me was it really a dream or just a faded memory no! it was there in my dreams and in my life can't get rid of the voices everyday and night

scared to death don't know what's become of me can't seem to run or hide from these monsters that i see i'm running around hysterical can't escape the thoughts inside is this real? is it a dream? again i sit and wonder why

as i slowly wake up from the nightmare i take a quick second to feel the tension in the air i cannot comprehend just how i feel it was just a sick dream and it was not real

[Chorus]
