

Nick Black, Beside You

So, this is how it ends, and you know...
I can't be just your friend
And you're seeing... this is not how you thought it would be
and you cannot pretend now...
Why? Why?
All of the stars fall from the sky
I never meant to see you cry
When it's all been said and it's all been done
you find yourself and you need someone You'll see me there...
Beside you
How, oh how can I go on, knowing now... could this feel so wrong?
And I'll be there,
somewhere in your heart
even though we're forever apart, now
Why? Why?
All of the stars fall from the sky
I never meant to see you cry
When it's all been said and it's all been done
you find yourself and you need someone You'll see me there...
Beside you
It's funny how you're the one who said
"You're never gonna leave me";
It's funny how you're the one who said
"you'll never ever be alone";
And there you left me on the floor feeling like I'm bleeding...
You'll still be the only one
All of the stars fall from the sky
I never meant to see you cry
When it's all been said and it's all been done
you find yourself and you need someone You'll see me there...
Beside you
