Nick Cave, Rock Of Gibraltar

Let me say this to you I'll be steadfast and true And my love will never falter

The sea would crash about us The waves would lash about us I'll be your Rock of Gibraltar

Sometimes it's hard And we're both caught off guard But there's nothing I would ever alter

The wind could howl round our ears For the next thousand years I'd still be your Rock of Gibraltar

The best thing I done
Was to make you the one
Who I'd walk with down to the altar

You'd stand by me And together we'd be That great, steady Rock of Gibraltar

Under the big yellow moon On our honeymoon I took you on a trip to Malta

And all through the night You held me so tight Your great, steady Rock of Gibraltar

Could the powers that be Ever foresee That things could so utterly alter?

All the plans that we laid Could soon be betrayed Betrayed like the Rock of Gibraltar
