

Nick Drake, Mickey's Tune

Sailing in seas of forget-me-not
Joining the race for the sun
Following baits made of daisy-chains
The new life has now begun.

So go your way and I'll follow
Just lead the way.

Drifting in lights of the fairground
Floating away on the breeze
Dazzled by scenes of a merry go round
You take the air with such ease.

So go your way and I'll follow
Just lead the way.

Dancing to midsummer nightsongs
Sprayed by the warmth of the rain
Blurred in the heat of a landscape
Fly to the moon once again.

So go your way and I'll follow on the breeze
Float with such ease
Lead the way.
