

Nieznany, Cosmic Gate

You think it was the trap that hold you down now this is not our fate loves watched the ground and there is something more we know it has to be found I know the world won't wait the tide is turning around and there's not enough time there's not enough time and all wicked was will never hold you down oh this not our fate, the tide is turning around and no there's not enough time, there's not enough time and the fallen and the wasted and the halfflight I'd still be here for you in the last dance of an old life now the cool winds is blowing and we can't stay but it's alright when the night is gone, I will still be here there's not enough time fallen and the wasted and the halfflight still be here for you

there's not enough time...