

Nightrage, At the Ends of the Earth

Full of superficial words,
anxious to find the real essence of the human nature.

Love, hate, colours, feelings, bitterness, anger, disappointment,
a rainbow of words so alien for you.

You broke down in disgusting pleasures.

Compressing dreams you destroy to save your own insecurities,
drifting and drowned in a sea of lies.

You think that you got it all,
but you need to protect your fucking ego.

Misery, hate is the only way, life is a big game,
stop to be blind lost inside dreamlike illusions,
you have to watch for the light,
giving hope, so far away from lies.

Compressing dreams you destroy to save your own insecurities,
drifting and drowned in a sea of lies.

At the ends of the earth I don't want to be drowned,
through the emptiness of non-existence.

At the ends of the earth the seas of eternal silence,
invocations of the testimony of the cursed Gods.
