

Nik Kershaw, Save The Whale

noon glistens and shadows wave who know whether we're stupid or brave and they way we are oh we are
running scared
no use fighting in the name of pride when there probably isn't any place to hide and the two of us
running scared
they're fakin' their peace and makin' their tracks they re watching you, watching them, watching your backs and they know we are
oh we are
running scared
running scared
from hearsay and hate
fatality and fate
st peter's pearly gate
on the run
to merciful release
where paranoias cease
and an everlasting peace
is not a gun
we could be pushing it much too far well maybe we, maybe, just maybe we are
and the both of us
both of us
running scared
excuse me officer, don't you know that this is the place where you people don't go here we go
here we go
running scared
running scared
from hearsay and hate
where paranoias cease
is not a gun
running
running scared
