

Nikki Webster, Mirror Mirror

Mirror mirror,
When I look at me,
I know I can see,
All the love surrounding me.

Mirror mirror.

In my eyes I see,
Just how good life can be,
If there is love to set you free.

If children are the future of this world,
Wish each and everyone the gift of love,
Someone who can show them right from wrong,
Teach them to believe and make them strong.

Someone who can understand,
Reaching out a helping hand,
Who can listen in a special way.

Mirror mirror,
When I look at me,
I know I can see,
All the love surrounding me.

Mirror mirror.

In my eyes I see,
Just how good life can be,
If there is love to set you free.

There's so much to learn - so little time,
There's so many mountains - hard to climb.
Till somebody says you can - you'll see.
I believe in you - and what you'll archive

This is for my friends out there,
To my family who care,
'Cause I'm so thankful for all - I have.

Mirror mirror,
When I look at me,
I know I can see,
All the love surrounding me.

Mirror mirror.

In my eyes I see,
Just how good life can be,
If there is love to set you free.

If every child could get the chance,
To gaze into a looking glass,
And see the hope there shining bright,
And never - lose the - wonder in their eyes.

Mirror mirror,
When I look at me,
I know I can see,
All the love surrounding me.

Mirror mirror.

In my eyes I see,
Just how good life can be,
If there is love to set you free.
