

Nikola Sarcevic, Tybble Skyline

Took the elevator up to six
Got the window open, easy fix
I never knew about about your intention
It's something that you never mentioned

Many times I've been up here with you
Escaping from the broken world we knew
I never thought you'd gonna blue it
No, I never thought you'd gonna do it
I'm losin' you

On a rooftop where we always hide
Where our troubles could be put aside
All around us got the tybble skyline
Just a step away from endless sunshine
I'm losin' you

Even Christians are afraid of dying
I think I heard you say
The only fight you felt was fear of flying
Brick's will guide your way on your last day
I'm losin' you
I'm losin' you
