

Nilufer Yanya, midnight sun

I remember everything
So I can't take back anything
Unless that's how I'm meant to feel
Find myself a better deal

So maybe
I better tie this up
I bet it all goes wrong

Do what they say say say
Could do with a drop of rain
I know when it's not ok
Can't keep my head down
Don't like
Whenever I'm not in pain

Peeling back not noticing
The blood and bones beneath my skin
Taking chances anywhere
Feelings that we can't compare

So maybe
I can't care too much
I can't clean this up

Do what they say say say
Could do with a drop of rain
I know when it's not ok
Can't keep my head down
Don't like
Whenever I'm not in pain
Whenever I try complain
To you we are all the same
Can't keep my mouth shut this time.

Love is raised by common thieves
Hiding diamonds up their sleeves
Always I did it for you

Never felt so sure
You're my best machine
You're my midnight sun.

I remembered every line
We go through it one more time
So show me how to split the real
Get me off this spinning wheel

So baby,
I better turn this up
I hope it drowns you out

It that why they say say say
Could do with a drop of rain?
It's that why it's so mundane?
can't keep my eyes closed, too long
Whenever i'm not in pain
Whenever I try explain
To you, we are not the same
Can't keep my hands up far from
Is that why they say say say?
