

Nine Black Alps, Happiness And Satisfaction

I love you 'cause you're sympathetic, you listen once and soon forget what I said,
'cause it's all in your head.

I love you like a new adiction, you kiss me once and then go missing, so long, you've been gone all along,

With your happiness and satisfaction, distorted by the big attraction,
I cut you down and set you free,
I pull the darkness over me.

I can't help it, I can't help myself
and you know it,
'cause there's nobody else,
yer, there's nobody else.

Waking up was not so easy, you sobered up quite completely, feel down, there was no one around

But, your sentimental chain reactions, tied to all the old distractions,
I held you temporarily,
to rest your bones here next to me.

I can't help it, I can't help myself
and you know it,
'cause there's nobody else,
yer, there's nobody else.

It's just happiness and satisfaction, safely in the ground reaction, (?)
it'll make you who you wanna be,
I pull the darkness over me.

I can't help it, I can't help myself
and you know it,
'cause there's nobody else,
yer, there's nobody else.
Nobody else
