

Nino Ferrer, Bloody Flamenco

I've come from Spain
it was all in vain nothing remains except the bloody yellow ashes
all over the bloody place
except the bloody yellow ashes
all over the bloody place.

Something went wrong someone dropped the bomb the neutron star just fell and changed the face of mother earth into a bloody hell dried up all the seas and blew up Dingley Dell.

Green grass can grow no more There's no more trees, no seashore.
