

Nixons, Don't Cry

If you ever turn if you ever stop
And ask the question
If you only knew the right questions

Take a look around
You're the only one still here
And the lights went out hours ago

And it all started off so innocent
Is where we are so wrong?

Don't cry I'll only hurt you once
And then walk away
Just try till then to stay

If you ever go to another place
Just know I'm trying
To keep what I can together

I'm seeing for a time I could never fill
The empty space that you
Keep inside to be more alone

And it all started off so innocent
Is where we are so wrong?

Don't cry I'll only hurt you once
And then walk away
Just try till then to stay

I know the clouds are coming
(But it's not enough to take)
Away the sun that's burning
(That brings another day)
Don't go no matter what I say

It all started off so innocent
Is where we are so wrong?

Don't cry I'll only hurt you once
And then walk away
Just try till then to stay

I wanted to see you
Just one last time before you fly
I wanted to be your
Fuse on the 4th of July
I wanted to see you
Just one last time before you go
I wanted to only let you know

No matter what I say