

Nixons, Lifeline

Close my eyes you make me wait
Hold my breath you choose my fate
Every time I start to care
Open up my eyes but you're not there

Get me thinkin there's a chance
Thoughts like these are dangerous
Been through this a thousand times
But here I am again that's all right
I'll be fine

Just a little bit of your lifeline
I see your future
Do you see mine
Am I a part of it
Just a little bit would be all right

Perfect in the strangest way
Standing still in disarray
When I see this light within you
I wanna step inside and feel it shine with you

Just a little bit of your lifeline
I see your future
Do you see mine
Am I a part of it
Just a little bit would be all right

I fell in tomorrow
And you there dancing all alone
If I'm dreaming just let me keep on sleeping

Wake me up when you decide
Will I see you've opened up my eyes

Just a little bit of your lifeline
I see your future
Do you see mine
Am I a part of it
Just a little bit
Just a little bit of your lifeline
