Nixons, Screaming Yellow

See-saw soldier with your playground war Don't care for reason what your fighting for Prey on the weaker but I see much more The weakness in you will bring your fall

I know, I know, I know what your seeing I know, I know, I know that your believing Who are, you are, you are leaving I know, I know you are...screaming yellow, (screaming yellow)

Recess warrior with your broken fall No one treads beneath your monkey bars Keep your distance and you'll see another day Until there's no one to play with, no one to fuck with No one today

I know, I know, I know what your seeing I know, I know, I know that your believing Who are, you are, you are leaving I know, I know you are...screaming yellow, (screaming yellow)

See how they run, how they cower away Keep them in range as the innocence fades We are the weak...are the weak

See-saw soldier with your playground war Don't know the reason what your fighting for Prey on the weaker and the weaker pray Until there's no one to play with, no one to fuck with No one today

I know, I know, I know what your seeing I know, I know, I know that your believing Who are, you are, you are leaving I know, I know you are...screaming yellow, (screaming yellow) Scream, scream...scream more for me, scream more
