

Nixons, The Fall

Is this the way do you recall any of this
Do you know where we're going
Can you see what's ahead, can you make out a path
Can we keep our footing
If you keep me awake and you can show me the way
I might sometimes lead
But for now for the fall can you promise that someone will catch me

Cause I'm falling in...into the real life
Falling in...into the real life

There was a time that I felt I had guide
But I'm needing a revelation
I've been spit out and spit on
Can't even keep together my disjointed frustration
Up until now it was a question of how and no deeper
It's the who and the why and the reasons I just can't remember

Cause I'm falling in...into the real life
Falling in... into the real life

Are you the one do you believe if I crumble
You can put me back together
Is this the time and place that might begin
What might be forever
Up until now it was a question of how and no deeper
It's the who and the why and the reasons I just can't remember

Cause I'm falling in...into the real life
Falling in... into the real life

I don't want your reality...anymore
Is this the way do you recall
Is this the climb before the fall, fallin' in, fallin' in Falling, falling, can you keep me awake, show me the way...
Fallin', fallin', this is all we are, get ready for the fall

Is this the way you recall any of this
Do you know where we're going?
