Nizlopi, Faith

Oh well faith is my brand new story Its been a long fight, my heart went right out, oh won't bore you any more Love wasn't my feeling, my type or my kind Now being good to you is all thats on my mind

And if we make it then we'll be just fine Maybe you'll be yours and i'll be mine

There's always mischief, oh you know the devil's always prying, Now being good to you is all thats on my mind Down

Yes your mind gets like a villain, make you splinter Sing your heart off walking through some long Russian winter Crying at the sad stories in the paper and on the news Then i gather up the scattered blessings To bring them back to you.

And if we make it then we'll be just fine Be the first i've known in a long, long time. Told my sad story to anyone who'd listen, Now i'm in your heart, talking like Ian Dury, I'll be blissin

Praise be the hands that brought this to work now Turn it on, switch me on You took my hand, yes that came first Turn it on, switch it on

I'm full of song, unrehearsed Go on and turn it up, turn it on, turn it over

Praise be the hands that brought this to work now Turn it on, switch it on.

Sing a song that's true Bring it back to you, Just sing a song it's true Bring it back to you Sing a song, its you, bring it back to you Lets sing a song that's true
