

No Doctors, O Say Can You See

take a look at the man to your right he'd stick a bayonet in his brothers eye take a look at the man to your left he'd take a hammer to your piece of the pie you can try to keep your bearings straight but it's never easy dealing with the devil on the sly

one on a side
two each side
get inside get inside

its time to draw some lines but you need legs to sidestep the landmines its time to set the veal take a bite the only way to seal the deal there's room in this world for one man but you gotta be sure who brought the lambs

one on a side

step up to the mic would you rather ride on a bike?
hell no!

o say can you see!
