No Doubt, By The Way

By the way Every little thing about her face Fills him up The image so pleasing it could never be erased Here to stay Embedded in his mind He wishes they could be together all the time By the way She says things, the tone, just to hear her voice He can't explain The sound so exciting to him a perfect choice Here to stay Embedded in his mind He wishes they could be together all the time

A crazy independent Spanish speaking Arty flirty red wine drinking Sexy tomboy with a natural way of Thinking carefree And innocent she's slightly sneaky Confidently proud from another country Has her way, lives for today By the way she's far away

By the way Holding her, hugging her can feel so warm Just think about it Two bodies embracing, creating love in this form Here to stay Embedded in his mind He wishes they could be together all the time

Then she kissed him and she went away Far across to San Francisco Bay You'd think that she would think again And only want to be with him Regardless of the things that pull her far away She's far away

A crazy independent Spanish speaking Arty flirty red wine drinking Sexy tomboy with a natural way of Thinking crazy By the way she's far away And by the way she's far away

A crazy independent Spanish speaking Arty flirty red wine drinking By the way she's far away Oooh - far away - oh A crazy independent Spanish speaking Arty flirty red wine drinking By the way she's far away
